

RESTAURANTS WE LOVE:

Sullivan's Island

(Located 6.7 miles from the Gates at Wild Dunes)

WORTHY OF ITS PLACE IN HISTORY, LITERATURE, & HEARTS.

Nestled at the mouth of the Charleston Harbor and neighbor to the Isle of Palms, Sullivan's Island is an inviting mix of wide beaches and watersports, history and folklore, local restaurants and shops, peace and perfect - just minutes from one of the country's most beloved cities, Charleston, South Carolina.

At just 3.3 miles, what Sullivan's Island lacks in sheer size, it more than makes up for in beauty and charm. Its beachfront lands are owned by the town and protected under easements, forever preserving the beautiful, vital environment they - and visitors from around the world - treasure.

The Obstinate Daughter

2063 Middle Street, Sullivan's Island – (843) 416-5020

We chose the symbol of The Obstinate Daughter to celebrate the spirit, sass and determination of Miss Carolina Sullivan. A Southern restaurant that is influenced by French, Italian and Spanish cuisine, The Obstinate Daughter houses a wood fired oven, plancha and island kitchen range. Pizza, pasta, small plates and a raw bar are the focus of the menu. Moving seasonally, the menu also is rooted by the burgeoning farms and fisherman in Charleston who all supply us with the superior products that make our region so special.

SALT at Station 22

2205 Middle Street, Sullivan's Island - (843) 883-3355

SALT at Station 22 began as one of the first restaurant on Charleston's historic Sullivan's, opened in 1987 as Station 22. Lead by Charleston native Laird Boles, SALT brings classic southern flavors, American fare, and new takes on old favorites, all made with local ingredients. Come check out our daily menu, seasonal cocktail menu, and delicious raw bar.

Poe's Tavern

2210 Middle Street – Sullivan's Island – (843) 883-0083

Poe's Tavern on Sullivan's Island is one of the Lowcountry's pioneers of big, sloppy, house-ground cheeseburgers. By day, it's a bustling beach lunch spot, by night a raucous bar and grill. Edgar Allan Poe posters and memorabilia cover the rustic walls, and all the burgers are named after his tales, from the basic Gold Bug with a mundane slice of cheese to the fearsome Tell-Tale Heart with fried egg, bacon, and cheddar cheese.

Fiery Rons Home Team BBQ

2209 Middle Street, Sullivan's Island (843) 883-3131

At Home Team BBQ, one can find a variety of dishes made from fresh ingredients cooked from scratch. This includes everything from starters and salads to tacos, sides, sliders, sandwiches and wraps... highlighted with dry rubbed and slow smoked Pork, Ribs, Chicken, Turkey, Sausage, and Brisket...our own Redneck Potroast.

Shem Creek

(Located 10.6 miles from Wild Dunes Resort near Mount Pleasant's Old Village)

Shem Creek is one of the highlights of Charleston, South Carolina. Both boating and seafood aficionados have plenty to do here since Shem Creek is the best spot in town for eating on the water. With fresh seafood coming in daily from the locally-parked shrimp boats, visitors are sure to get the best seafood in town right here. The public access boat landing is right up the creek - just under the bridge - and is used by kayakers, jet skiers, and small watercraft.

For those looking for a little night-life excitement, Shem Creek is lined with restaurants on both sides: from Shem Creek Bar & Grill to Vickery's, each come complete with dining rooms and bars for your drinking pleasure, and of course, spectacular views.

Water's Edge

1407 Shrimp Boat Ln, Mt. Pleasant – (843) 884-4074

Water's Edge offers both waterfront and outside dining where guest can view the local fish and shrimp boats unloading their daily catches. Executive Chef/Owner Jimmy Purcell, a native Charlestonian, has created a menu that appeals to every taste bud with fresh local fish, prime rib, and many more Lowcountry dishes. Water's Edge is the only restaurant in Mt. Pleasant to be awarded the Wine Spectator Award of Excellence every year it has been open.

The Shelter

202 Coleman Blvd, Mt. Pleasant – (843) 388-3817

The Shelter has quickly become one of Mount Pleasant's favorite bars and restaurants. During the day you can grab your favorite burger, sandwich or soup along with an amazing choice of appetizers to get things started.

Every local will tell you that Shem Creek is one of the most special places throughout Charleston. So come by and seek shelter.

Red's Ice House

98 Church St, Mt. Pleasant – (843) 388-0003

It was Lewis Hughes "Red" Simmons desire that this old fish and ice house be transformed into a public gathering place at the water's edge where locals and visitors, regardless of their age, wealth or culture, could gather, watch the boats go by and help celebrate, preserve and protect the rich and storied traditions of Shem Creek. This is our aim here at Red's Icehouse.

Vickery's Bar & Grill

1313 Shrimp Boat Ln – Mt. Pleasant – (843) 884-4440

With water on three sides, all tables are good tables at Vickery's. You can stroll outside onto the deck where there is additional seating, the shark bar and telescopic viewers for a closer look at nature. It is Vickery's intent to serve a variety of dishes/some simple and creative, some complex from various regions and ethnicities, consistently good and fairly priced.
