The current list of food items being considered for inclusion to the Common Food Index consists of 5 items. AAFCO's subcommittee of experienced ingredient definition and label reviewers assessed and narrowed this list to the most common and well-known ingredients. AAFCO encourages stakeholders such as veterinarians, animal nutritionists, consumer groups and the general public to review the current list of proposed food items and provide feedback here. All feedback is due by December 13, 2024.

Oyster Mushroom
